43rd International Symposium of CIB W062 Water Supply and Drainage for Buildings

Climate change is putting the availability and quality of (drinking) water under pressure throughout the world. This increasingly results in initiatives concerning alternative sources (rainwater and grey water) to replace the (drinking) water used in sanitary appliances. August 23 - 25, TVVL, in collaboration with CIB, will offer a stage to scientists and technical experts working in the field of supplying water, drains and sanitary provisions for buildings.
